Pay Your Dues is the newest hit released by Danish band LC & The Chaingang. More than a blues song, the sound is climactic and calls on all the world's leaders to debate the last summer of extremely hot weather in the northern hemisphere during the summer (winter in the southern hemisphere). According to LC, "they have the power and the money and should do what is necessary to save the planet".

Here, the accurate swing with the accent of a slide guitar and, of course, the harmonica, make you tap your foot to the sound of the purest blues that takes us back to classic singers and bands and permeates our unconscious on a musical journey that We let ourselves go immediately.

At the end of the day, LC is right. Music can change the world and this song has the potential to make that happen.
